$1 Million Industrial Park Underway Here

Construction has started on a new 10-acre Upland Industrial Park that will have a proposed 24-building complex to cost more than $1 Million.

The first three building permits are scheduled to be taken out Friday.

Utilities, curbs, sidewalks, and land clearance already are completed or underway.

The development, to be completed as rapidly as tenants are obtained, is located between E. 9th St. and the Santa Fe tracks at Mountain Ave., in an M-1 zone.

A second 10-acre development adjacent to this Park will be developed as soon as this one is completed.

The Industrial Park will have all city utilities, 35-foot driveways, 64-foot streets. There will be parking space throughout the area. The front will be landscaped, with blacktopping for driveways and streets, with the appearance of a business section which is the "trend of the future."

Developers are Don Pickett of San Lorenzo; C.J. Smith of 816 Amber Ct., Upland; L.G. Johnson of 855 Altura Way, Upland; and F.E. MacDonald of Covina. Mr. Smith and Mr. Johnson also own the second 10-acre site.

Mr. Pickett told THE NEWS this week the area had been watched carefully for three years.

"We feel this area development will help balance the economy of Upland and enhance its growth and progress," Mr. Pickett said.

The frontage of the development will be 696 feet, with 322 feet depth.

HERE'S A SKETCH of overall plans for the 12-acre New Cucamonga Shopping Center which will be located on the south side of Foothill Blvd. between Archibald and Hellman Aves. Expected to locate there are 20 commercial units. Ground breaking ceremonies and start of construction by Mayfair Markets, Inc., is scheduled for 3 p.m. Thursday, March 24.

To Mail Ballot Samples

Sample ballots will be mailed next week to all registered voters for the April 12 General Municipal Election in Upland, it has been announced by City Clerk Hazel M. Cassell.

Mrs. Cassell reminded, "Enclosed will be your Polling Place Card. Do take time to note where you will vote. This is perhaps of greater importance this year than in previous years, for the boundaries of many of the precincts have been changed. The area in which you live may be affected by these changes. Do not conclude that because you have always voted at a certain polling place, that it will necessarily be the same this year. It will save you time and annoyance, and will assist those who will serve you at the polls, if you will retain your Polling Place Card and refer to it before you go to the Polls on Tuesday, April 12."

Registered voters who expect to be out of Upland on election day may obtain an Absentee Ballot from the Office of the City Clerk, Room 6, City Hall, Mrs. Cassell said.

MARCHING AT UPLAND May 21 will be the Brown Military Academy band (above) and entire cadet corps. The Lemon Festival is celebrating Upland's 54th Birthday.

Library Week Proclaimed For April 3-9

National Library Week, April 3 - 9, has been proclaimed for Upland by Mayor Abner Haldeman.

This marks the third annual celebration of the week.

Proclaimed Mayor Haldeman: "The principles upon which this celebration is founded are that:

"Reading is an important source of personal fulfillment;

"That only by making possible the intellectual development of every individual to the limits of his capacity will the national interest best be served; and that

"Libraries of all kinds, as the means of making information accessible to all the people should be used and properly supported."

Moratorium On Program

Action whereby the Chaffey Union High School District would take over the adult education program which will be abandoned July 1 by Chaffey College has been postponed for one year by the high school board of trustees.

Supt. Allan Smith recommended the year's moratorium. He estimated it would cost the high school district $25,000 to operate the program which would lead to high school graduation through night school.

Council Hopefuls At Variance On Center

Differences of opinion among the six candidates running for two City Council positions open in the April 12 Upland municipal election have cropped up regarding location of the community's Civic Center.

This is not surprising since the Upland Ways and Means Committee on Capital Improvements studied the question for months and finally agreed that its members could not agree on the matter.

The question has been returned to the City Council for final decision.

Because of the community significance of the matter, The Upland NEWS asked the six Council candidates:

Where do you think Upland Civic Center should be located? Why?

The answers:

Floyd G. Allen: "It is my feeling that the present facilities for the housing of the city government should be utilized and the present site expanded to meet the growing needs. This viewpoint is based on the desirability of keeping the civic center readily accessible to the business district of the city."

Andrew Barmakian: "This is a problem in economics and involves the businesslike study of several plans based on several essential factors: Annual cost, present worth, and prospective rate of return on investment. These plans ought to be considered from the point of view of function and expansion possibilities. Its location ought to be determined in this manner because the greatest good of the majority of our citizens would thus be best served."

William H. Kistinger: "Very stable and interested men of the community have given a lot of their time and though to this matter. At the present time the Civic Center should remain as is, in the center of the population. The only reason for moving at anytime would be to acquire sufficient land at a more reasonable cost than can be done in a congested and populated area, and when the move would meet more closely a location for the ultimate population centers."

Bob D. Marriott: "I have an open mind as to where the Civic Center should be located. As I understand, there is a very capable committee working on this and until I have read the report of their findings, I would be unable to point to a specific place for development."

Trudi S. Novack: "I favor near Foothill and Euclid; it seems to be the most central site available."

Don L. Organ: "At the present time a committee appointed by the City Council is looking into the matter of where to build a proposed Civic Center. I believe that three sites are being considered: 1) the area of the present City Hall augmented by condemnation of surrounding privately held land; 2) a site along Foothill Blvd.; 3) a site located within the limits of Memorial Park. I feel that the decision as to where to build the new Civic Center should be made on the basis of the recommendations of this committee. I am sure that the committee will do its best to find a site which will be advantageous to the city and its taxpayers. However, I feel that the principal guidepost to use is economy. All other things being equal, I would favor the most economical location."

Candidates Reveal No Policy Changes

Among questions posed by The Upland NEWS to the six candidates for the two City Council positions at stake in the Upland municipal election April 12 was:

What specific actions do you favor that would reverse present council policy?

The replies:

Floyd G. Allen, 1489 N. Euclid Ave. — "It would be presumptuous for any candidate to propose changes in present council policy before he is aware of the reason for the policy concerned. The electorate should carefully consider the motives of any candidate whose campaign is based upon one issue only or whose attitude toward previous council policy is essentially negative."

Andrew Barmakian, 592 Aspen Way — "Our Upland City Council has been doing a fine job. I do feel more time could be given to research for the resolution of problems. Also, more operational records should be gathered from other cities to aid in the making of decisions, rather than proceeding in a less scientific manner."

William Harwood Kistinger, 1189 W. 16th St. — "There are no specific actions which would reverse present Council policy. Time, future developments, increase in population, all would have definite effect on policy, but a Council Policy is merely the expression for expedient action on matters after consideration of the will of the people and the needs of the community."

Bob D. Marriott, 1678 N. Laurel Ave. — "I can see no major changes that I would make on city policies at the present."

Trudi S. Novack, 1622 N. Laurel Ave. — "I like the present City Council, but I feel we could make a few changes to make the policy more consistent."

Don Lawrence Organ, 1442 N. Francis Ave. — "At the time of this writing, I can recall no specific action that I would reverse. If elected to the Council, however, I would feel we could make a few ideas and fresh plans which I would like to see enacted in order that Upland can solve its many problems."

Brown Band To March In Upland Fete

Brown Military Academy, located in the Sierra Madre foothills in Glendora, will march en masse in the Upland Lemon Festival Parade Saturday, May 21.

The Brown entry will consist of their marching band, color guard, cadet corps, and drill team. They will be dressed in their West Point style uniform and will carry the standard Army Rifle.

These cadets have appeared in many parades in several Southern California Cities. They have won many awards and honors for both their marching of the cadet corps units and drill team.

Brown is the only military school on the West Coast which has an honor Army ROTC unit. By virture of this ROTC unit, candidates may be nominated for West Point, Annapolis, Air Force Academy and other service schools.

The academy offers opportunity for military, scholastic and leadership training. Eleven states and 7 foreign countries are represented among the cadets at Brown.

The academy will be represented by the entire cadet corps under the supervision of Major John N. Knight, Commandant, and Mr. Boyd Smith, bandmaster.

Signal Doubt

Doubt that the State would approve a signal light on Euclid Ave. for the proposed school crossing at 14th St. has been expressed by a spokesman at the State Highway Dept. in San Bernardino.

Mrs. Gordon W. Scott of 1646 N. Laurel Ave., Upland, advocate for safety measures to protect Sierra Vista school children who must cross Euclid Ave., said she discussed the matter with the highway spokesman. He reiterated that the State Division of Highways felt only a crossing guard could be satisfactory.

Mrs. John E. Skewis of Upland has been elected president of the National Charity League, Foothill Chapter, for 1960-61.

Backing For Pediatric Facilities At Hospital

Ontario Rotary Club is financially backing a badly needed pediatric facility at San Antonio Community Hospital in Upland.

A $1000 check from the Ontario Rotary Club makes possible the first section of a badly needed pediatric facility at the San Antonio Community Hospital. The Rotary Club has been so interested in this project for children that they have pledged an additional $3500 to be paid during the next four years. The total contribution from the Ontario Rotary Club of $4500 will cover the entire cost of the reconstruction and refurnishing of a large, special, four-bed pediatric unit.

The San Antonio Community Hospital has also received $1000 from the Upland Woman's Club for the creation of a special unit for sick children at the San Antonio Community Hospital. This contribution will help cover part of the cost of the reconstruction and refurnishing of one special two-bed pediatric room.

These contributions make possible a fine beginning for the construction of a complete pediatric unit which is badly needed. Much additional construction must be financed in order to complete the special pediatric unit at the hospital which will provide complete care for sick and injured children in the West End.

Free Hand On Imagination In UHS Art

Imagination is given a free hand in the advanced art classes at Upland High School. One of the projects of the second and third year art students is the creation of totemic images under the direction of Mrs. Marian O'Gorman.

The images stand about three feet high and are cut from cardboard. They stress the negative form and the cut-out part of the structure is as important as the solid portion.

Mrs. O'Gorman tells her students that their ideas may be abstract if they relate basically to human structure. The students are required to create images that appear pleasing from all angles, that are vital in form, and well-structured.

Candidates At Rotary

Candidates for the Upland City Council have been invited to a luncheon meeting of the Upland Rotary Club April 6.

A question and answer period will be held after lunch.

6 Council Candidates Give Views On Purchase Of Parks

Upland's Ways and Means Committee on Capital Improvements has recommended to City Council a $250,000 bond issue for the purchase of park sites "when feasible."

The Upland NEWS asked the six candidates for the two City Council seats on the April 12 municipal election:

How do you feel about a bond election on the purchase of additional city park sites?

Their answers:

Floyd G. Allen: "With the growth of the city it is only being realistic to plan ahead in the acquisition of additional park sites for future development. It is desirable to select sites adjacent to those selected for school purposes. I am in favor of the proposed bond election to make such purchases possible."

Andrew Barmakian: This "is a problem in economics involving the study of two different plans. One, the present cost of potential park sites, considering the cost to the individual taxpayer, and the easily acquired park sites at this time. Two, the estimated cost of properties at any later date based on the higher cost at this later date, yet spread over a greater population along with the lesser availability of park sites at that time."

William H. Kistinger: "Park sites are important in the operation of a well planned city. Either a bond issue or an additional increase in our tax rate, specifically ear marked for this purpose, is good planning. The problem is to the right time for such action. I feel that the bond election on the water system of the city is of first priority (this will be on the April 12 municipal election ballot), and none of us are in a position to overburden ourselves with more tax responsibility. However, consideration must be given to possible loss of areas because of development, and therefore we as a community must be ever alert to not allowing too much time to pass before we set in motion a definite plan to acquire additional park locations. Placing such park next to acquired school sites saves taxpayers tremendous expense, since the two areas may be used concurrently."

Bob D. Marriott: "I do not believe in a bond for parks at this time. The parks should be provided for in the over all planning and should be developed when population and city revenues warrant such action."

Trudi S. Novack: "I favor additional park sites."

Don L. Organ: "With its expected growth, Upland will eventually need additional park and recreational facilities. The plans we make during the next couple of years should include parks. However, I would not at this time support a move that the city go into bonded indebtedness to finance the purchase of additional park sites. I feel that there is no real urgency right now. Instead we should set up a capital reserve fund now which will enable us to buy neded park sites without the necessity of raising taxes. This capital reserve fund can be built up by using a small part of current city revenues each year, and when the time arrives for parks, the city can pay cash."

Ministers Oppose Bible Storyland

Two Upland churchmen have taken a stand against the proposed multi-million dollar Bible Storyland in Cucamonga.

They were among four West End ministers on a joint committee which discussed the project for the West End ministerial union at an hour-long conference with the promoters of Bible Storyland.

The Rev. Joseph A. Erickson Jr., rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, and the Rev. Trusten A. Hart, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, represented the Upland Ministerial Union.

The Rev. Dr. Earl L. Riley, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the Rev. Dr. Evan R. Williams, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, represented the Ontario Ministerial Union. The clergy were unanimous in their belief that this project would not be looked upon with favor by the Ministerial Unions nor the congregations or denominations which they represent.

Developers Jack Haley and Nathanel Winecoff presented promotional materials, perspectives, and sketches, and discussed the venture at some length with the pastors. The four ministers are preparing to present their report to a combined meeting of the Ontario and Upland Ministerial Assns. representing about 75 churches within the near future.

Specific reactions of the four ministers:

Mr. Hart: "In my opinion the foremat could constitute misplaced religious instruction. A principle of church and home control of scriptural interpretation would be violated."

Fr. Erickson: "This proposed project, as it was presented to us, indicates an inadequate understanding of the truths which believers of many differing religions hold sacred. This type of presentation could endanger our long - established principle of Christian nurture. As the plan was presented I would feel compelled to advise my congregation and community of this travesty."

Dr. Riley: "Such a project in my opinion would make ludicrous the principles of our faith and lower them to the level of mythology. There are some aspects of our Faith which cannot be incorporated into an amusement park, nor can they be commercialized. This seems to me to be an attempt to profane that which is sacred and holy. I would regret seeing this proposal become a reality in this or any other area of our land."

Fr. Williams: "The absurdity of mongrelizing the Greek, Roman Catholic, Jewish, Protestant and other religions is well known to theologians. This attempt to fulfill the yet unaccomplished and impossible task by carnival and circus techniques is a pathetic encroachment upon the spiritual responsibilities of individual congregations."

Transfer Foes Against Foothill Crossing Need

The question of double-sessions at Sierra Vista School do not enter into the opposition expressed to suggested transfer of 70 students to Baldy View School next school year, according to persons in opposition. (See Editorial, Section 2, Page 2.)

"We simply do not want our children to cross Foothill Blvd.," said one mother.

"There is no reference to double - sessions in the petitions we presented to Supt. Cook," declared one father.

The petition against the transfer which has been signed by at least 62 persons states: "We, the undersigned, are opposed to having our children transferred from Sierra Vista School to Baldy View School."

Supt. Cook suggested the transfer to the Upland School District Board of Trustees as a possible method of eliminating double-sessions in the first, second and third grades.

Purchase of a bus to transport the students would be necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton N. Hegney and little Alane are from Ontario. The Jerone Fagan family is a new neighbor from Downey. There are five youngsters in this happy home.

Delition Asked For UHS Course

Thomas Glasheen, principal of Upland High School, has requested that the General Language course be deleted from the 1960-61 curriculum.

He notified the Supt. Allan Smith that the language department and the curriculum committee of Upland High School contend that a course of this nature serves to attract enrollees who do not profit from the instruction given or who are already capable of entering a regular language program.

High School's Nurse Club Assists Tuberculin Tests

Upland High School's Future Nurses Club, sponsored by the National American Junior Red Cross, will assist the County Health Department and Tuberculosis Association with the tuberculin testing program at the school this week and next.

Mrs. Shirley Cooper, school nurse, said that the Future Nurses will act as receptionists.

Freshmen and seniors were to view a film on Wednesday titled, "Are You Positive?". Following the film, the Future Nurses were to distribute parent consent forms and information on the tuberculin testing program. Mrs. Cooper asks that the parents see that their youngsters return the completed consent form not later than Friday, March 25.

On Tuesday, March 29, doctors from the County Health Department will begin giving the test to the seniors and freshmen. Because of the time element, only seniors and freshmen will be tested. "This is to be a screening program, rather than an attempt to test all students," Mrs. Cooper said.

Mrs. Cooper also stressed the fact that, should a student have a positive reaction from the test, it does not necessarily mean that the student has tuberculosis. It may be a result of exposure to a carrier of tuberculosis. A student who has a positive reaction should see his own physician for further testing.

Future Nurses assisting the program are:

Bonnie MacKenzie, Lynette Billings, Bonney Thrasher, Judy Hollingshead, Paula Mackabee, Sue Wooley, Donna Olsen, Alice Olsen, Peggy Schmidt, Barbara Murray, Merla Whittaker, Marie Kulhavey.

Club officers are:

Donna Olsen, president; Jane Swetonic, vice-president; Barbara Murray, secretary; and Kathie Harris, treasurer. Mrs. Cooper is club adviser, and the Junior Red Cross of Upland is sponsor.

Chamber Society Sunday Program

The Valley Chamber Music Society will have a program in Balch Auditorium, Scripps College, Claremont, starting at 8 p.m. Sunday, March 27.

The 21-member Pomona College Glee Club and the Valley Chamber Music Society string orchestra will perform.

Mrs. Warren H. Wass of Upland is a member at large of the society.

Mad Hats Dominate Card Fete

The Mad Hatter, Alice in Wonderland and the Easter Bunny joined hands to theme the annual card party in Upland Woman's Club Tuesday, March 15.

Among the hats of all descriptions worn by the 150 persons attending the party, the following were prize winners:

Mrs. Nellis McNeil, most unique hat — A wire salad basket with marshmallows intertwined and forks and spoons for accent.

Mrs. Spencer Smith, most glamorous — A purple Easter basket with eggs and little bunnies.

The Rev. Joseph A. Erickson Jr. of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Upland, was guest speaker when St. Faith's Guild met at the home of Mrs. William C. Turner, 956 West 'I' St., Ontario, on March 14.

He discussed with members the subject of Depth Psychology and the Church, explaining that the answers to the family's problems, emotional as well as religious, should be found here. He told of a study group at the Claremont Seminary, combined of doctors, priests and ministers of all demoninations, whose goal is to enable their churches to offer this therapy as successfully as has St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Monrovia.

Following the program, a short business meeting was held to discuss plans for the May 21 Spring Bridge-Luncheon in which all the guilds of the church will take part. Also discussed were the needs of the Dutch - Indonesian Dirk Wijtman family, coming soon to Ontario from Holland, sponsored by St. Mark's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. William C. Turner, hostess and Mrs. Robert E. Lunsford, co-hostess, served coffee and hot-cross buns, which were in keeping with the Lenten theme.

Two new members were welcomed into the guild: Mrs. Maud Gilbert and Mrs. Jane Crawford.

Redeemer Lutheran Holds Dedication Of New Church

Dedication of the new church sanctuary of Redeemer Lutheran Congregation was held Sunday, March 20 at 920 W. Sixth St., Ontario.

The Dedicatory Address was given by the pastor, the Rev. Lawrence P. Rudolph, now completing his fifth year in Ontario.

The new church, which represents an investment of $190,000, is the first unit of a complete plant. The church, which is of precast, reinforced concrete is the first of this area to feature "tilt-up" construction. Even the roof panels were poured on the ground, and then hoisted into position with huge cranes and joined by strong steel plate welds. The 40 foot tower is surmounted by a 30 foot copper spire which in turn is topped by a 10 foot aluminum cross for a total height of 80 feet. Eight of its stained glass windows are of a new style of stained glass art originated in France. The designs are traced in chunks of vari-colored glass, cut and chipped like jewels. Imported Italian marble is featured in the altar and baptismal font.

Comfortable seating in pews is provided for 550 persons. An additional 150 can be accommodated with overflow seating in the narthex and wide aisle areas.

Landscaping was planned and installed by Lou Klins of the congregation with help from other members. John Thoma of the congregation was the electronics engineer for planning and installing the speaker system.

Harold Wilder, former City Engineer of Upland who recently passed away, was a member of the Building Committee, together with co-chairmen, W. Dario Robinson, and Walt Lewman, and a fourth member, Harry Ross.

The first unit, the church, was dedicated Sunday. The officers, class rooms and smaller assembly hall are to follow as soon as the Euclid Ave. property is sold. Meanwhile the old buildings on Euclid Ave. will serve as the educational and fellowship unit of the church. A large gymnasium-type hall is projected for later development.

The congregation which was founded here in 1943 maintains a full elementary school, with 75 pupils enrolled in eight grades. The staff consists of Gerald P. Uecker, now principal, Melvin Mueller and Mrs. M. Lundquist.

Three pastors have served Redeemer congregation, the Rev. Albert C. Young, 1943-1945; the Rev. Arthur T. Irmer, 1945-1955; the Rev. Lawrence P. Rudolph since 1955. The congregation now numbers 480 adult communicant members and has a total membership in excess of 750 souls.

—SERVING UPLAND AREA SINCE 1929—

(Paid Political Adv.)
TO THE PEOPLE OF UPLAND:

We have a wonderful city to live in! Indeed, we can all be proud that we have selected Upland for our home.

Our Euclid Avenue is rightfully famous for its picturesque beauty and lovely homes. Nothing can match our mountains on a crisp, clear spring day or the view of the long, green rows of citrus trees.

We are certainly a friendly community. Upland is a place where neighbors get along and work together. It's rare when we don't meet a friend while shopping downtown.

Upland has a great future too. Let's be thinking about that future as election day draws near. Let's lay the groundwork now so that Upland will retain its beauty through expert planning. Let's make sure that our community earns the prosperity it so richly deserves.

Sincerely,

The color, sound film, "The Glass Wall," will be shown at the General Electric Co. auditorium at Main St. and Euclid Ave., Ontario, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 29. The auditorium is one half block east of Euclid. The "Glass Wall" is a dramatic story about the rehabilitation of the hard of hearing, and was made possible by a grant from the office of Vocation Rehabilitation.

Local showing of this film is being sponsored by the Pomona Valley Hearing Society with the help of Mr. and Mrs. Garth Inskeep of The Valley Hearing Aid Service at 306 West B St., Ontario. There is no charge for the showing and everyone interested is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

The Pomona Valley Hearing Society, a non-profit organization, has offices at 135 East Pearl St., Pomona. It is dedicated to helping the hard of hearing and deaf.

The Society is a Member Affiliate of the American Hearing Society, 919 19th St., N.W. Washington, D.C. Services provided are lipreading classes, consultation on hearing problems, pure tone audiometric tests, and social activities for those with hearing problems.

Resignations Of 3 UHS Teachers

Three Upland High School teachers have submitted their resignations.

They are Larry Brewer, social studies; Harold Mille, English; and Grace Wax, English.

Industrial Art Display

Currently set up in Upland High School's library is a unique panel arrangement designed by the industrial arts instructors.

Paul White and his staff utilized five panels, each measuring three feet by five feet, as a ten-sided display area. By setting them up in the shape of a double Y, the men achieved a maximum of display area in a minimum of space.

The boards are designed for pegboards, shelving, solid sections, and present many possibilities for display. White said that the men got the idea for the board at one of their graduate university classes.

Recently the men took the panel set to the 31st annual convention of the California Industrial Education Assn. at Los Angeles. It was displayed in the Biltmore Hotel, showing work done by students in seven areas of industrial arts.

Attending the convention were:

White, Wallace Randleman, Dale McKeon, Herbert Christian, William Turner, Sam Rice, and Terry Gillespie.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Landes and their three lovely children are from Corona. Mr. Landes has a grocery store here in town.

Approval Given Lot Size Study

Upland City Council finally got around to ordering a lot size study of the northwest section of the city last week.

City Planning Consultant Simon Eisner was named to conduct the study of the area bounded by Euclid Ave., the proposed 19th St. Freeway, San Antonio Ave. and 16th St.

The matter arose last summer when an Upland City Planning Commission recommendation was overthrown by City Council, an aroused citizenry forced City Council to reverse the decision and refer the proposed zoning study to the planning body. Finally the planners recommended the study be handled by Mr. Eisner due to the technicalities involved. City Council set an adjourned meeting to take final action on this recommendation but the adjourned session was never held.

City Manager Elwin Alder reminded the councilmen of this last week.
